REBSEA is the first Trade Association to represent all business models of Realtors, and all other types of businesses, who Give Back to their communities by supporting Non-Profits in a variety of ways.

REBSEA, the Real Estate & Business Social Enterprises Association, a 501(c)(6) Non-Profit trade association announces that local Realtor Tom Olsewski has become the newest Founding Member of this innovative organization. Tom Olsewski has joined 70 other Founders who each have been actively supporting Non-Profit Organizations in the communities they serve. Each Founder has either been donating a part of each commission earned to a non-profit or has founded their own organization that has had a positive impact in meeting the unmet needs in their community.

JUST SAY YES.....to GIVING BACK reads the REBSEA logo. REBSEA's

Founders and Members are leading by example by turning part of each real estate commission into a donation to a worthy cause. "Every Realtor accepts qualified referrals from another Realtor and gladly pays a referral fee, so why would they not make a donation to a worthy cause when one of its supporters seeks them out to buy or sell a property ?" asks Co-Founder Realtor, Dave Matluck.

Tom Olsewski has joined REBSEA to lead by example as REBSEA spreads its network across the U.S. And Canada encouraging more and more Realtors and businesses of every type to support the communities they serve. REBSEA already represents over 200 Realtors who currently contribute to national organizations such as Habitat For Humanity, American Cancer Society, Charity:Water, and The Humane Society, to mention only a few.

Tom Olsewski has been active in supporting local and national Non Profits and hopes that more and more clients will reach out to work with REBSEA Members so that Non-Profit Organizations both locally and globally will receive more of the support they so badly need.
